In Your FACE

To the outsider, the '93-'94 year began like any other, but the year was far from ordinary. With over 2,000 students it was easy to get lost in the shuffle of the crowded halls. Students had to distinguish themselves so that they didn't become just another face. Students excelled in all areas — academics, sports, fine arts, extracurricular activities. Students refused to accept the norm and made their voices known. With their IN YOUR FACE attitude they rushed off to change the world. Congratulations to the 395 Seniors, 388 Juniors, 557 Sophomores, 687 Freshmen, and 150 Faculty for all their support and accomplishments this year.

Crowd

Lancer's life involves spirited participation. Homecoming events launched the year, getting the Lancers moving with Spirit Week and the Homecoming dance. Soon after came the traditional Powderpuff football game; the seniors took another exciting victory with a score of 21-0. ★ This year Lancers took time out to show compassion and concern, providing Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners, as well as giving clothes, toys, and food to make these holidays more memorable for others. In February, the student body raised more than $6,500 to assist senior C. J. Johnson. ★ As spring began, many Lancers took the "new" SAT, moving one step closer to college. ★ By May students were ready for "MOONLIGHT MAGIC," the prom. ★ Finally June arrived and graduation ended the school year of '93-'94.

▼ Crystal Miller, John Hurtte, Mary Misiano, and April Upton hang out after school before track practice.

► Dawn Wilson is "stoned" by Patrick Penn, Chris Rawls, and James McCathy in an reenactment of a scene from "The Lottery."

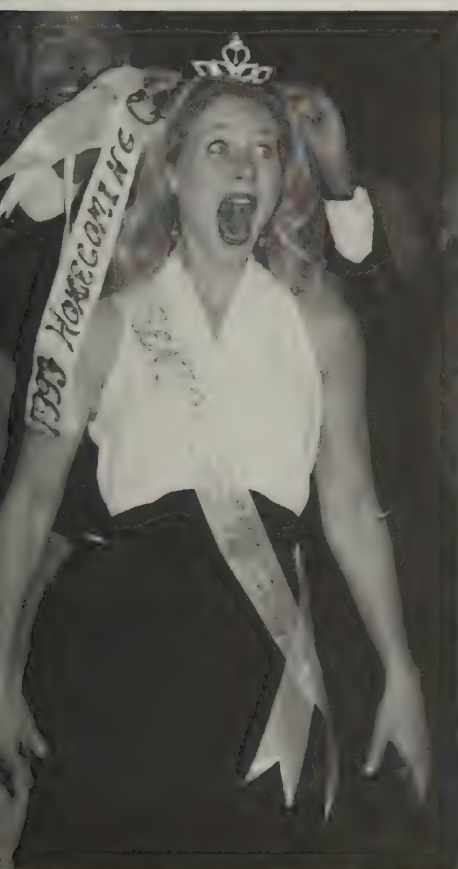

▲ Mr. Koste introduces new students to Manchester at Freshman Orientation.

► The band helps to "pump up" lancer spirit at pep rallies.

▼ "Please come and get me! Please!!" Virginia Harris begs her mother after school.

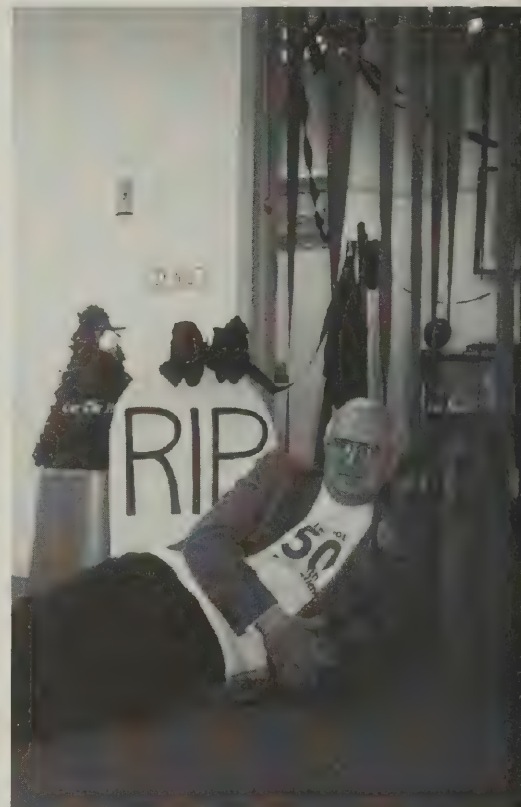

◀ "Ahaa!!!" screams Raelan Roscher as she is crowned Homecoming Queen.

▲ ▲ Waiting for his ride, Steve Warrick finds school the perfect place to take a nap.

▲ While sitting on the sidelines, the cheerleaders show their spirit at homecoming.

Until Death Do Us Part?

Vows were exchanged, and promises of faith and devotion were made. Well, not exactly. These were just a few of the ties that did not bind four couples during the annual mock wedding. The purpose of this event was to give students enrolled in the Family Living Classes an opportunity to experience the process of planning and participating in a wedding. Family and friends gathered on the evening of March 10 at Hopewell Baptist Church to witness the uniting of the couples in "holy matrimony." A reception followed the ceremony, where a spread of refreshments was enjoyed by all. The process of exchanging vows, walking down the aisle, and nearly making the commitment of a lifetime were events everyone would remember.

▲ ▲ Allen Baugh and other guests enjoy the delicious foods provided.

▲ Guests observe as Stephanie Bush prepares to cut the cake.

Moonlight Magic

The Manchester Moonlight Magic Prom was a great success. Juniors and Seniors waited anxiously as Mr. Koste crowned Xaviera Pace and A.J. Hamlin, Queen and King. The festivities continued as the Queen and King carried out their first official duty, leading everyone in a slow dance. The Prom Court consisted of ten seniors: Karen Gray, Tracy Barrios, Fatin Issa, Xaviera Pace, Raelan Roscher, Ben Koch, Eric Krausse, Damon Fand, A.J. Hamlin, and Jason Elam. Black mesh and silver stars transformed the walls of the commons into a dreamy, romantic evening. Balloons were clustered, creating arches in the hallways and around the pillars. Prom was an event not to be missed!

SCA & Senior Awards

Once again, Manchester students were honored for their outstanding achievements at the annual SCA and Senior awards assemblies. Over 20% of the entire student body received some kind of recognition at the SCA ceremony. Among the awards presented were various departmental awards, as well as spirit awards. English teacher Ray Goss was named "Teacher of the Year." The ceremony concluded with the induction of the newly elected SCA officers.

At the Senior assembly, graduates were recognized for both this year's accomplishments, as well as those of their entire high school career. Many Seniors received scholarships from various schools and businesses, with over $200,000 dollars worth of scholarships awarded. Kevin Kish proudly accepted the honor of being named "Outstanding Graduate". Ben Koch, Allison Marsh, and Thomas Epps also received awards in honor of their numerous academic and artistic endeavors. As the graduates filed out of the gymnasium, the Juniors filled the seats that had been left behind. The phrase of the day for both rising and graduating Seniors became, "WE FINALLY MADE IT!"

▼ Outgoing SCA president Tracy Barrios, who organized the awards assembly, swears in Heather Wallent as the new president. It will be up to Heather to continue the strong SCA tradition at MHS.

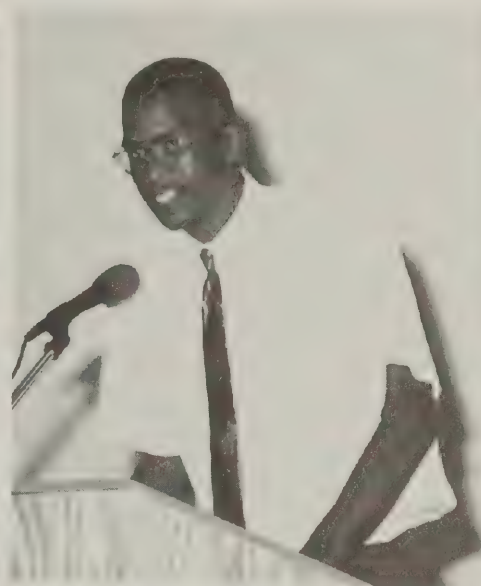

▲ Award winning Manchester students were honored at the end of the year assemblies. These students excelled in academics, athletics, and extracurricular activities. Congratulations to the over 100 winners!

◀ Sara Harold, Britton Marable, Peyton Owens, and Christie Maxie received the PTSA Spirit Award.

▼ Senior Class Poet, George Hembrick, reads his poem, "We All Must Go On."

▲ Chemistry teacher Mr. Henry honors Ben Koch as the Outstanding Science Student for 1994. Ben has completed five science class, including two AP courses, and received high marks in all of them.

▲ Sherkyla Staples was awarded a scholarship to attend the University of Richmond.

"We must hold our heads up,
And pursue our goals,
to fulfill the dreams."

- George Hembrick

POWDERPUFF!

The Great Role Reversal

This year the rivalry continued — Powderpuff. Who would win? The tension between the junior and senior girls grew, leading to an exciting game. For one rough week, 40 girls practiced in the mud, grunting and pushing to prepare for the ultimate contest. On the night of the game, the juniors and seniors faced each other. The battle lines were drawn. By halftime, it looked as though the juniors had had it. Half-time ceremonies included crowning Jason Elam as King Puff. After the game resumed, the seniors clobbered the juniors while being cheered on by their male counterparts. To no one's surprise, the final score was 11-0 with the seniors embracing yet another Powderpuff victory.

▲ Ready to roll and full of spirit, our very own Lancer cheerleaders give their best effort and try to construct the perfect pyramid for the crowd.

▲ Ashley Wright rushes to make a touchdown.

▲ By means of aggressive maneuvers, Kristi Kimpel outwits the opposing team.

► In hot pursuit of Mary Overbaugh, Jennifer Malone dashes to gain possession of the ball.

HOMEcoming

“Faces of Spirit”

Orange and blue faces, huge rubber feet, giant teddy bears, and tears for Thomas Dale marked this year's spirit week and 1993 Homecoming. As Homecoming arrived, the Lancers showed their most enthusiastic faces. Feet shuffled in the act with many students wearing funky slippers.

On the fourth day of spirit week, many students wore black to mourn Thomas Dale's impending loss. The fifth day everyone showed their spirit during school, at the pep rally, and at the game by painting their faces orange and blue, and coloring their hair.

During halftime of the game, alumni and former King Ivan Squire and Queen Nicole Kimbrough crowned Alec Smith and Raelen Roscher as the new King and Queen.

Other members of the court were:

Juniors: Farrah Seal, D.J. Stanley, Robyn Abernathy, and Alvin Johnson;

Sophomores: Sarah Malone, Keith Condrey, Latisha Vaughan, and Lee Farrior;

Freshmen: Cameron Miller, Robert Armstead, Kelly Middleton, and Ryan Whitfield.

“Wonderful Tonight” was the theme of the dance, and the evening lived up to that name. The commons area was decorated with purple balloons and purple and silver streamers. The senior courtyard offered a place for couples to get away from the crowds. The courtyard was beautifully decorated with candles, which set a romantic mood felt by each couple!

◀ Orange and Blue all over! Tina Pemberton is a truly spirited Lancer fan.

▼ Tracy Barrios hugs her teddy bear to show her spirit

► "We're number one!" shouts Jovan Anderson and Herb Howard.

▲ Have a mouthful! Manchester athletes Jovan Anderson, Jennifer Malone, Leigh Ann Blake, and Garry Maddox search for a lost piece of candy during a spirit game.

◀ ▲ Play that funky music Marching Lancers!

▲ In your face! Cheerleader Farrah Seal gets a pie in her face.

◀ Giddy up horsey! The spanish club finishes first place in the float competition.

► Manchester students take a break from the excitement until the next song.

► ▼ "Joy Ford, are you telling me that your going to dance with George Hembrick instead of me?" Sean Edwards asks in shock.

▼ Scott Osterbind and Leslie Phillips heat up the dance floor at Homecoming.

▲ Sharing a romantic moment Paul Proffitt and Christina King dance slowly.

► Brenda Starr, Crystal Coltes, Steven Smith, Chris Graves, and Carol Gregory dance the night away.

▼ Mr. Benz shoots up a three-pointer while the seniors dash to block the shot.

Senior/Faculty Game

For the first time in a decade, the faculty basketball team snatched victory from the seniors, an extraordinary change from years past. Manchester seniors showed their true colors during the game by letting C.J. Johnson take some of the points to help support the seniors. The first half was exciting, and the score was tied until the third quarter. Then it happened.....the faculty broke and surged to the lead. They then took over the game in a brilliant display of experience over youth.

▲ Mr. Peterson blocks Rick Pierce's forceful layup shot.

▲ ▲ Up-Up and in it goes, Chris Morgan puts in a layup shot for two points.

▲ After the game, faculty players enjoy their glorious victory over the seniors.

COMEDY

shone in Rumors and Our Town. In the senior class, Thomas Epps ranked first out of 394 students. ★ Throughout the year Manchester Lancers enjoyed a variety of activities and dances. Juniors played the Seniors in the traditional Powderpuff game with the Seniors taking yet another victory. May brought the Prom's Moonlight Magic to the commons at Manchester, and at Cloverleaf Mall the Wild Wild West Post-Prom party followed. Seniors excitedly awaited cap and gown day, symbolizing their new independence, their official entry into adulthood, their new beginnings. We wish them well.

Class activities included the Powderpuff football game, "Senior Santa" charity project, the MORP dance, prom, senior banquet, and graduation. WONDERFUL
 Year after year you've done the best possible,
 Buckled down and focused on the goal.
 Occasionally you strayed, lost sight of the track.
 But there was always someone to bring you back.
 Whoever it was picked you off the ground.
 Someone to rely on when no one else was found,
 When the gloom and sorrow took hold of you.
 Like a friend should, they'd see you through.
 An important part of life you've come to rely on.
 But a new day is breaking; here comes the dawn.
 An unforgettable period now comes to an end,
 A time when you must leave your friends.
 Try not to worry because you must part.
 That friend will always live in your heart.

Juniors

“Twisting the day away!”

Rings! The symbol of the Junior Class. It is what being a Junior is all about. During September, the Junior Class attended the eagerly anticipated ring ceremony. Here they received their long awaited class rings. The ceremony, to many Juniors, emphasizes the fact that they have made many accomplishments during their first few years of high school.

Two of the class officers, Secretary Sherri McCracken and Treasurer Sara Thomas, were presented their rings in front of the entire Junior Class. After the ring distribution, the task of finding 95 people to turn them began. For many of us, the tradition of the turning was rather uncomfortable, due to a wrongly sized ring. Soon the ceremony ended and we returned back to class with memories and a new symbol to add to our ever-growing collection of high school memorabilia! After the experience, the reality of being only one year away from graduation sank in.

In addition to getting rings, the Junior Class participated in many other exciting events. In charge of these events, were

President Charla Coleman and the newly elected Vice President, Robyn Abernathy. Many Juniors devoted hours of work constructing the Junior Class Homecoming float. The girls of the Junior Class participated in the infamous Powder Puff game, while the Junior guys entertained the crowd with their cheerleading antics. Unfortunately, the Juniors lost the hard played game to the reigning champions, the Seniors. To raise money for the prom, members of the class sold spirit links and value checks. The Junior/Senior Prom was held at Manchester for the second year in a row. By having the dance at school, ticket prices were more affordable, and there was plenty of dancing space. Everyone who attended agreed that they had an enjoyable evening, and that they would always remember their special memories of their first or last Prom. As the Class of '95 looks back upon the past year, we see that it was a rather productive first year as being up-perclassmen.

STRESS

As students advance in their high school years, it is almost a tradition that they acquire more pressure and stress from parents and other adults. Being Juniors, many students have huge tests, exams, SAT's, and prospects of college to deal with. Grades are a big part of the average student's academic life at Manchester. If it is keeping up that chemistry grade, that just will not get above a "C," or trying to study for that killer math test, getting "good" grades can be extremely stressful. Cramming for tests or anything else is not the way to relieve stress. Relax-take it one step at a time. No one expects you to be a super genius. Here are some tips that other Juniors have for you:

1. "Don't wait until the last minute."
2. "Have your material organized."
3. "Sit next to a smart person. Ha! Ha!"

These are not hard-fast rules to be followed. However, keep them in mind the next time you are studying for that major English exam.

◀ Meredith Rash and Amy Aleski, ▼ Angela Carroll takes time out to unstressed and fancy free. study for her SAT's.

▲ Isa Hofmann, Hilary Langford and Jenny Pierce hangin' in the Commons.

▲ Sara Thomas gets carried away by Scott Osterbind and Celeste Fetta.

▼ Homecoming rocked with the Junior Class float.

▼ Sara Thomas, Sherri McCracken and Kristen Johansen gracefully lose the Powder Puff Game.

▲ Levar Tyler talking the day away on one of Manchester's many pay phones.

▲ Robyn Abernathy, Farrah Seal, and D.J. Stanley, the reigning Junior Princesses and Prince.

“Familiar Faces”

“Sophomores, sophomores, what’s your cry? V-I-C-T-O-R-Y!!!” This was the call of many sophomores this year as they proclaimed their spirit and support during Homecoming. The sophomore class demonstrated unrivaled spirit in the 1993 Homecoming festivities by winning the “spirit stick” at the pep-rally, by forming the longest spirit link chain, and by winning the coveted best class float award. Sophomore representatives on the Homecoming court were princes: Keith Condrey and Lee Farrier, and the princesses: Sarah Malone and Latisha Vaughn.

From the first day of school, sophomores looked forward with fear and anticipation to begin formal instruction in driving. Continuing a sophomore tradition, the sophomore class marketed fruit for a class fundraiser. For the first time at Manchester, sophomores participated in the D.A.T. testing, a career planning exploration. Sophomores also donated food to feed their adopted family. Spring brought the BIG decision — which class ring to buy?? Most importantly the sophomore class began to realize that there were only two more years until the class of '96 had to say good-bye.

Freshmen

"New Faces, More Faces"

They kept coming and coming and coming until they overflowed the halls of Manchester. Over 700 new, confused, lost faces poured into the huge school. Who were they? They were Manchester's biggest freshmen class ever.

"Our lives are changing. We have new responsibilities, and people look at us as if we are adults rather than children," said Jessica Nunnally. Yes, were there changes! The class of '97 experienced a wide variety of new activities.

Pep rallies, exams, homecoming, and various clubs were just a few of the new experiences changing the lives of this year's freshmen class. With these exiting new changes came more responsibilities: a harder and heavier homework load, opportunities for club participation, and for some, part-time jobs. As Susanne Forte said, "That's what being a freshmen is all about!"

► Katherine Jones gets into the spirit of homecoming.

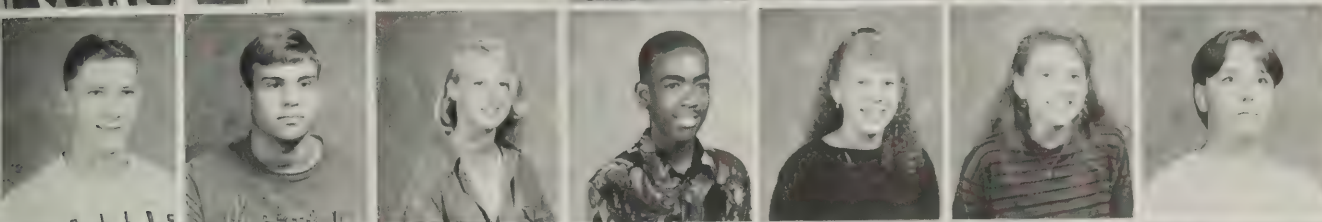

▲ A very small sampling of Freshman spirit, Mrs. Austin's fifth period English class.

Faculty

"Friendly Faces"

"Why Teach?"

Have you ever wondered why anyone would want to be a teacher? Actually, the job has many rewards, such as working with youth and having a job that never changes. Here are some reasons why teachers say they teach. . .

"I enjoy working with young people. Plus, the job is never the same." -Mrs. Shelly

"I enjoy teaching and students, and it keeps me young." -Mrs. Tompkins

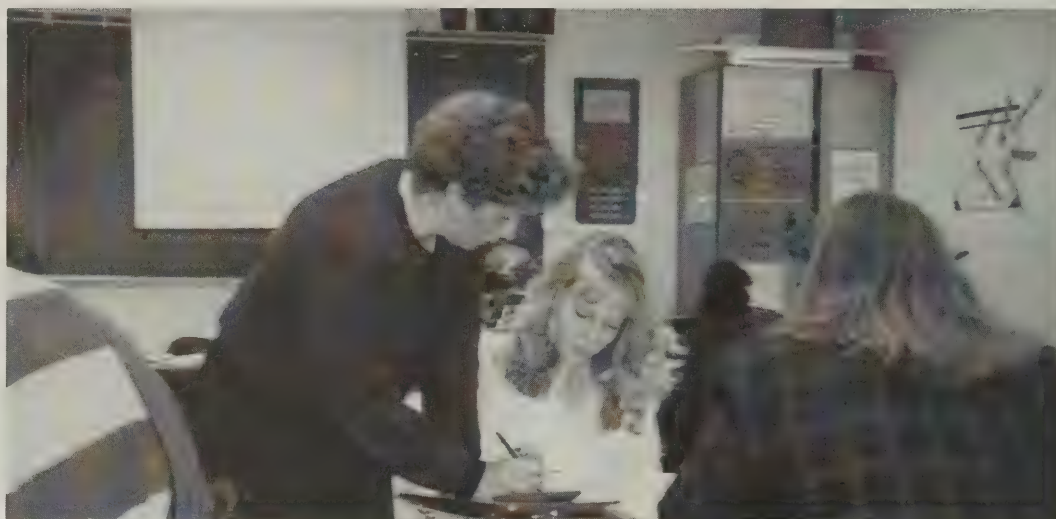

"Coaching is the number one reason." -Mr. Bowen

"I enjoy young people and the youth's enthusiasm, energy, and excitement." -Mr. Sours

"Pays well and has benefits including summers off." -Mr. Elliot

"I enjoy sharing what I love with others." -Ms. Farr

"I wanted to make harder classes easier for students and offer kids other ways to see things." -Mr. Katsarelis

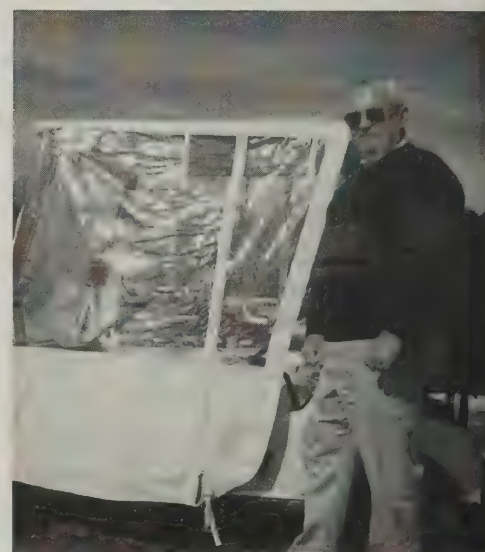

Teacher of the Year 93-94

The teacher of the year for 1993-94, Fran Arbaugh, not only teaches geometry but also is involved in other school activities. She keeps busy during the year by co-directing plays, keeping score books for the basketball team, and traveling with the show choir. At home, she likes to read and play piano.

During the summer she takes classes, sunbathes, and swims. Referring to her classes, Mrs. Arbaugh says she likes "anything I can use the graphing calculator with." The one thing she wants students to learn is that "Math isn't as hard as they think it is."

Facing

Facts

Manchester students hold strong opinions about their favorite subjects. Ever wonder why students like some classes more than others? Why are some subjects more popular? ★ Kyle Kruzywick, freshman, enjoys science because “Everything else is boring.” ★ Ricky Jones, sophomore, likes English ” ‘cause I love to write.” ★ Junior Sean Gravely likes math because “I have always passed it.” ★ Although students have a set number of required classes, every year there are a few elective classes that are selected more than others. According to Guidance, among the favorites are chorus, keyboarding, and, for seniors, family management.

▲ After navigating the crowded halls, Mrs. Winter stands poised and ready to teach her next class.

► Nick LeGodais flies a kite for a math class project.

▲ Mrs. Callan's class reviews for their exam.

◀ Looking very Greek, Ms. Winters and Ms. Chaconas show their spirit for Greek Week.

▼ Kristen Johansen and Alison VanHorne paint Lancer notes and activity motifs around the new bulletin board.

Service

The 1994 school year was the second year that the Community Service Class has been offered at Manchester. Students involved in this class, go out into the community to volunteer to help various organizations. Some pupils left school during fifth and sixth periods on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday to go to elementary schools, fire departments, museums, libraries, and the S.P.D. program at M.H.S. Throughout the year, the Community Service Class aided in canned food drives, fundraisers, and other volunteer activities.

The STARS (Student Tutors Are Real Solutions) program helped other students. Peer tutors were matched up with other students. Approximately eighty students volunteered to help, and about one hundred students received help.

▲▲ Alvin Johnson and Lashell Rowell work on mathematics during peer tutoring.

Sports play an active role in life at Manchester. The members of all 32 athletic teams demonstrated success in their respective sports during the 1993-94 school year.

★ Fall brought competition in football, girls' tennis, golf, field hockey and girls' volleyball. Manchester also added a boys' volleyball team this fall. ★ Winter carried boys' and girls' basketball as well as boys' wrestling. ★ During the spring, Manchester athletes competed in baseball, softball, boys' tennis and girls' and boys' soccer. ★ Throughout the school year the Lancer Cheerleaders, and Lancer Dancers showed enthusiasm with their performances. ★ All of Manchester's athletes, regardless of the sport, made the Lancer sports program one of the most successful in the county.

Football

The varsity football team started the 1993 season on a collision course with victory. The Lancers kicked the year off with four consecutive victories and were ranked as high as sixth in the region by the middle of the season. Injuries beset the team during the second half of the season. All five captains were put out of action at one time or another. Despite a slight derailment from their winning ways, the Lancers were able to overcome their obstacles to enjoy a successful season. The team finished with a 5-5 record and established itself as a steady force in the tough Dominion District. Head coach Roger Cassem borrowed from Charles Dickens to sum up the season: "It was the best of times. It was the worst of times."

"The JV Players Felt It."

The coaches and fans knew it. Their record showed it. The most brutal string of injuries in Coach Odell's memory affected the JV Lancer football team from the outset of the season. Injuries included sprained and broken ankles, multiple concussions, and sprained necks.

"Freshmen"

The freshmen football team fielded many hopefuls for next year's JV and Varsity football teams. Staying healthy played a major role said Coach Tompkins. Coaches said lack of experience makes freshman teams more difficult to teach. However someone must be learning. Coach Tompkins says, "Play the game how you practice, we practice like winners."

Hockey

“A Season of Change”

As the season changed from summer to fall, field hockey players spent little time watching the colors on the trees. Busy practices, games and tournaments consumed most of their time. The varsity finished the season with a record of 5 wins, 6 losses, and 4 ties, while the JV finished with a record of 7 wins, 5 losses, and 2 ties. The busy varsity team traveled to Norfolk to play in the Tabb Invitational Hockey Tournament, where they won a trophy.

The colors of the leaves were not the only thing that changed this season. For the first time, Mrs. Wallmeyer coached both Varsity and JV, affecting practices and games by putting more responsibility on the captains, Jennifer Malone and Allison Marsh, for varsity and Stacy DeNise and Sara Malone. Secondly, the teams had their own field for practice and games. No longer did the teams practice near the grave of Ezra Clay, although their new field came with many rocks and little grass. With the help of Coach Swelnis, Coach Bowen, and the team members themselves, the field was in great shape by the end of the season.

Cross Country

"The Pain Behind the Victory"

"Cross Country-whether you win or lose-it always hurts." -Drew Lindsey

When most students go home after school in the fall, a small group of athletes stays until five o'clock testing the limits of their endurance. They run for as long as two hours, they do dozens of push-ups and sit-ups, and they spend nearly an hour in weight training. Who is this group of athletes? The best cross country team in the district. The Lancer cross country team's motto is: "Running for the F.U.N. (Finishing Under No One) of it."

"It's the hard work and dedication of each individual," says Coach Kevin Sours. "The people I coach are never satisfied with their performance. They are always striving to improve."

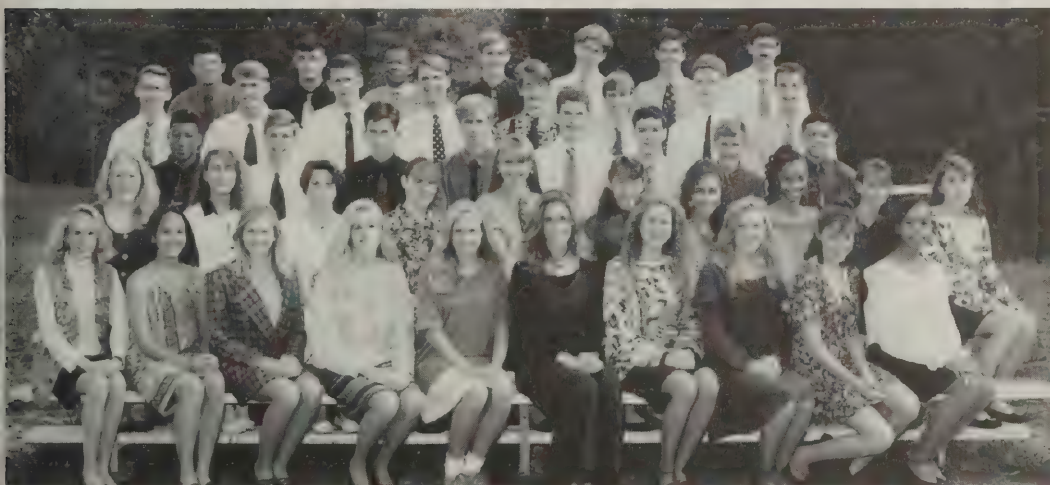

THE VICTORY. The girls cross country team finished with a record of 6-0;

the boys cross country team finished with a 5-1 season. This is the sixth consecutive season for the girls to hold the District Champion title. The girls also won the Newport News Invitational and the Leesylvania Invitational, where Heather Costello took first place. Other top finishers were Kelly Thornton, Sara Burkett, Sarah Kirkland, Erica Gajewski, Drew Lindsey, and Ben Ayres.

THE PAIN BEHIND THE VICTORY. Being the best was not achieved without cost. Coach Sours indicated that there were no major injuries to speak of. However, there were several twisted ankles, banged up knees, sore hips, and two fractures. Despite few injuries, running 3.1 miles as fast as you can can be painful. As Drew Lindsey said, "Cross country — whether you win or lose — it always hurts."

Girl's Volleyball

Maybe you've heard it spoken in some secluded area of the school, or maybe caught a little sliver of conversation in the hallway indicating its existence, and some of you will just swear on your life that it's true. It's time to set the record straight. Yes, volleyball and volleyball teams really exist at Manchester.

This is the second season for the girl's teams. The varsity squad advanced to the district tournament this year with a 5-5 record. Senior Ashton Moore said, "We played on trust, rather than expectations, and moved on from mistakes as more of a team."

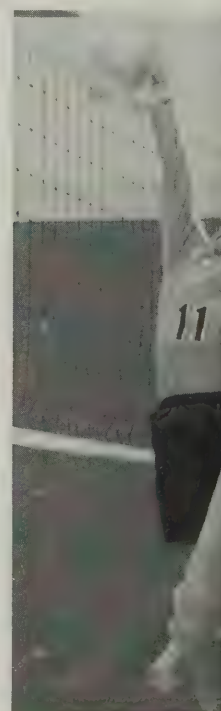

The boy's volleyball teams are the newest addition to the sports department at Manchester, this being their very first season. Coach Taylor of the boys J.V. team said, "Since it was the first season, we really had to start from scratch, and I think we really came a long way and had good morale."

Cheering

Working hard, the energetic cheerleaders pumped up Lancer spirit. Not only did they cheer at all the football and basketball games, but they also held contests during pep rallies. To raise money, the cheerleaders held raffles during the pep rallies, where the winner could either pie or egg the cheerleader of his or her choice. In addition to raising school spirit, Manchester's cheerleaders attended Dominion District Competition at Clover Hill where the girls preformed stunts for the first time. Lancer Dancers

Flamboyant Faces

They're flashy, they're fabulous, they're our very own Lancer Dancers! Whether it's football half-time, half-time on the basketball court, a dance competition, or even just practice, you'll always find our dancers hard at work perfecting their already outstanding choreography. They received first place in Lyrical Jazz and third place in Body Rock at the North Stafford Dance Competition. With the help of their directors, Mrs. Likins, Mrs. Winter, as well as Coach Swelnis, and captains Jeniffer Jennings and Eisha McDowell, the Lancer Dancers have had an exciting and successful year. Forensics and Debate

The Debate and Forensics team is different from most teams because as coach Judy Dorazio said, "We work out our minds, instead of our bodies." The forensic competetors work on their voices, volume, and drama skills. The debaters work on always having something more to say, along with projecting their voices. Together the two groups form one of the best teams in the county. The team had an outstanding year. In VHSL district competition four forensic competetors: Sheri Hicks, Bronwynn Bailey, Anne Smith, and Dominique Jenkins, moved to regional competition. From regionals, Sheri Hicks placed first, Bronwynn Bailey placed first, and Dominique Jenkins placed second, moving on to state competition. In the CFL, the team had twenty one people qualify for states. Fan Faces surprised by the extensive extracurricular activities. Along with the many sports during the school year, MHS houses 19 clubs, four of which were new this year: MCC (Manchester Community Connection), CYF (Christian Youth Fellowship), Pep Club, and German Club. MCC is the new name for Future Homemakers of America. Encouraging school spirit, Pep Club was a big hit and one of the largest clubs. Manchester students have always found clubs to be a great way to express their school pride, to express their enthusiasm, and to make their faces known.

Upon Arriving at Manchester, many new students are

▲ Alvin Washington, sporting his toga in a portrayal of Jason, prepares to draw his sword at the Virginia State Latin Convention.

The 1993-94 Memoir had a big year of firsts. Planning for the yearbook began as early as June of 1993 at yearbook camp. In previous years the book was produced as an after school project. This year students attended a journalism class specifically designed to produce the yearbook. The Memoir's theme "In Your Face" came from the multitude of new faces at Manchester. This was also the first time for staffers to use computer typesetting. Also, the Homecoming section was bathed in vivid color. Despite all the new high-tech methods of piecing together the Memoir, it was still a paramount task. When describing the experience Senior Editor Allison Marsh said, "Work."

◀ Editor-in-Chief Allison diligently checks copy for errors before sending pages to the publisher on a computer disc.

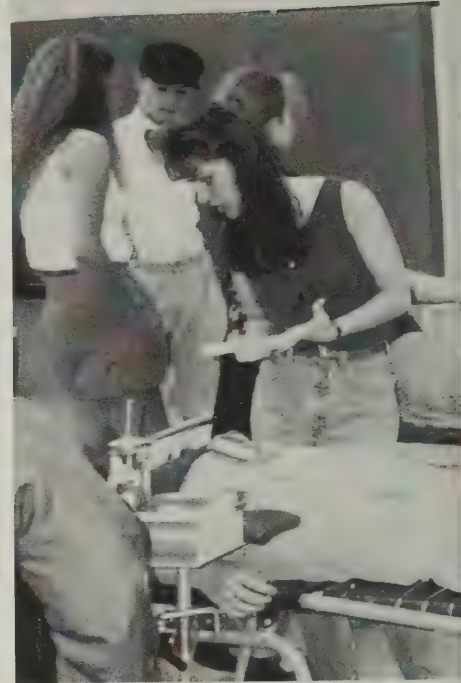

Front row: K. Fakler, S. Hardison, T. Leedy, M. Kent, A. Marsh, T. Nelson, J. Taylor; Second row: J. George, K. Williams, A. Marsh, J. Pannell; Third row: R. Self, W. Martin, R. Craig, A. Moore, M. Thomas; Fourth row: J. Meloan, Mrs. Austin, Mrs. Shelly.

► The SCA organized a spring blood drive. Manchester students enthusiastically donated over 200 pints of blood, which was distributed throughout the greater Richmond area.

▲ Yearbook section editors Shannen Hardison, Kelly Hoback, and Tonya Leedy spent over 200 hours putting together the 1994 Memoir.

► Mrs. Thorpe's community service classes collected toiletries and made wash-kits for the underprivileged.

F a c e s

in the Community

During the 1993-1994 year Manchester students have not just a face in the community. Lancers have gone into the world and given back to society. Students participated in the annual Blood Drive. Lancers donated washcloths, soap, toothpaste, and many other items for wash kits for the Homeless. The Freshmen Class beautified the area, by cleaning up garbage on Bailey's Bridge Road. For generations to come the P.E.A.C.E. club planted trees behind Manchester. Lancers brought in canned foods for the Children's Hospital at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Students have reshelfed books at La Prade library, volunteered at local hospitals and helped teach at area schools. Manchester students still and always will be in the face of the community.

Groovy!

“Hey man, what’s going down. . . Well, I just got back from Nam. . . The one way to peace. . . Power to the people. . . Here’s a flower, man. . . Don’t be a square — be there. . . This is hip; this is jive; this is funky. . . Cool man. . . Groovy!” Such was the lingo muttered by Manchester students clad in tie-dyes, poodle skirts, camouflage, leather jackets, and letter sweaters.

Was Manchester caught in a time warp? Of course, and its name was the 50’s & 60’s Sock Hop. Once again, urged on by extra credit, hippies and greasers boogied to the oldies. They twisted, pretzled, jitterbugged, and shagged.

Sponsored by the Social Studies Department with refreshments provided by the History Club, the dance was a huge success. Over 300 students danced to tunes dished out by the excellent D.J., Mr. Geary.

Ex-flower-child Mrs. Thorpe loves this annual dance because “it reminds us of our youth.” However, Ms. Dabney refutes, “Of course some of us weren’t alive during the 60’s.” A groovy time was had by all!

▲ Nathan Sneed and David Bivins rockin’ and boppin’ to the groovy tunes.

New Beginnings . . .

you shall above all things be glad and young.
For if you're young, whatever life you wear it will become you; and if you are glad whatever's living will yourself become.

I'd rather learn from one bird how to sing than teach ten thousand stars how not to dance

e.e. cummings

In living memory of C.J. Johnson and Jennifer Weiss for their courage and determination.
